The purpose of the Allied Health Games is to bring institutions and future allied healthcare professionals together for a weekend of friendly competitive games to encourage team building, camaraderie, and networking. Please join us in this unique opportunity to connect the Texas allied health community together for a weekend of fun, professional development, and the opportunity to showcase your institution’s pride through athletic competition.

Weekend Events

Professional Development Friday – Allied Health Professions Panel and Little Woodrow’s Networking Social

Meet recent Allied Healthcare Graduates and Professionals who will provide a panel dialogue to include:

- Insights on how to transition successfully from being a student to an Allied Healthcare Professional.
- Tips, resources, and opportunities within the Allied Health Profession.
- How to develop your professional network.
- Social Networking at Little Woodrow’s – Food, refreshments and social time with the group in the heart of the Health Science Center. A favorite spot among the UTHSCSA students.

Sports Saturday – A full day of intramural style individual and team games concluding with a celebratory dinner at Alamo Cafe. A Light breakfast, snacks, and lunch will be provided.

Event Location

The games are hosted by the UT Health Science Center School of Health Professions located at:

UT Health Science Center San Antonio
7703 Floyd Curl Drive
San Antonio, Texas 78229
ABOUT SAN ANTONIO
